City of Wellbeing Initiative- Norwich

Norwich organisations come together in city of wellbeing initiative

A collaborative initiative to support the emotional wellbeing of Norwich residents will begin on World Mental Health Day (10th October).

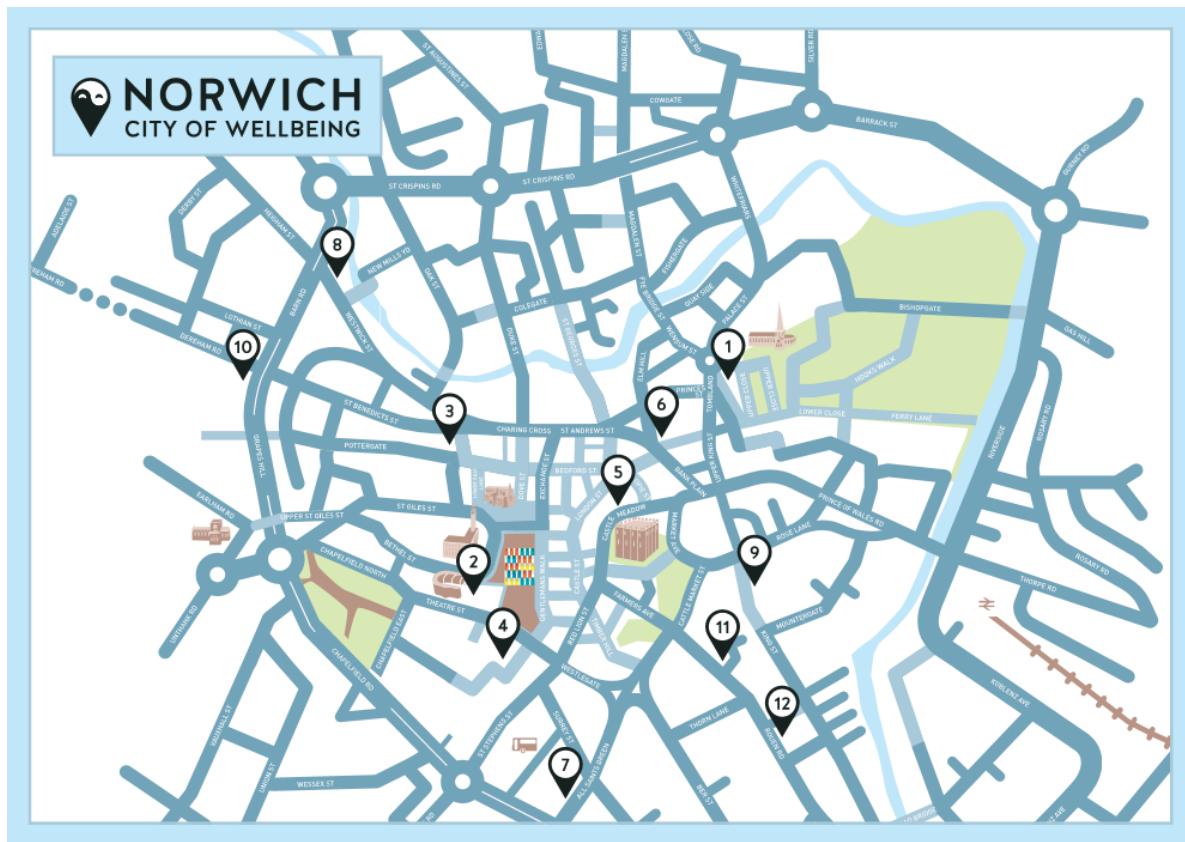

The 'City of Wellbeing' initiative brings together charities, religious organisations and local businesses in the city centre, that can lend a listening ear to people experiencing emotional distress.

The scheme - devised by Healthwatch Norfolk - has so far had 12 organisations sign up to participate, including; Norwich Cathedral, Cropper's barber shop, Grape's Hill Community Garden, as well as various cafés and religious organisations across the city centre.

An appeal has been made by Healthwatch Norfolk for other businesses, charities and religious organisations in Norwich to offer to be included as a supporting location on the City of Wellbeing initiative in the future.

If you would like to attend the launch, or are interested in being included as a Norwich City of Wellbeing location, contact Healthwatch Norfolk by emailing, enquiries@healthwatchnorfolk.co.uk or calling on 01953 856029.

Keep warm this winter with a new heating system from the Warm Homes Fund

A cold home is not only miserable, it can have serious effects on your physical and mental health, especially in later life. This is why Norfolk councils, led by Broadland District Council, are using money from the Warm Homes Fund to fit first time central heating at no cost to the homeowner or private tenant.

You are likely to qualify if:

- Your home has no central heating. This includes homes currently heated by storage heaters, electric radiators, solid fuel fires or back boilers and gas fires.
- You have a low income or receive certain benefits.

Funding is available to install mains gas, oil or LPG central heating systems, and in some cases gas grid connections can also be fully funded. Even if you don't qualify for this grant, we may still be able to help - see back page.

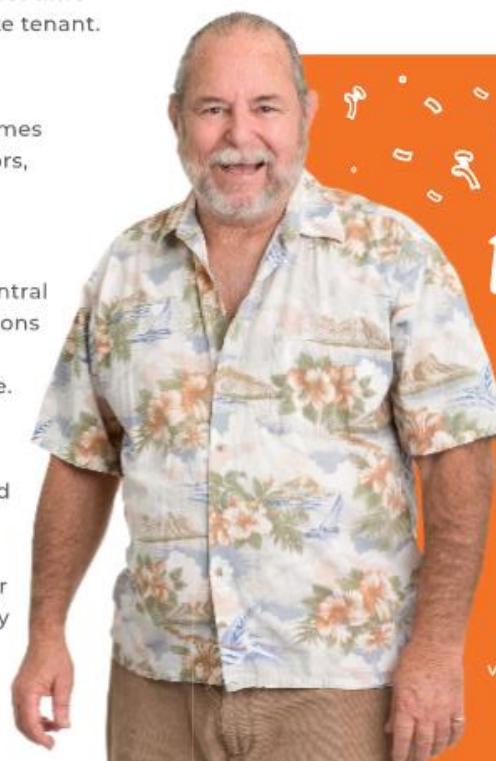

Where does this money come from?

The Warm Homes Fund is a £150 million fund provided by National Grid CIC and administered by Affordable Warmth Solutions. It is designed to be used for the installation of affordable heating solutions in fuel poor households that do not use mains gas as their primary heating fuel.

Three steps to getting a warm home:

- 1) Get in touch! Phone us on 01603 430103 and we'll find out if you're eligible for this support.
- 2) If we can help you, we'll then arrange an appointment for someone to visit you and carry out a heating survey. They will have a look around your home and work out the best way to fit your new heating.
- 3) One of our selected professional companies will then install the central heating system in your home with the minimum of fuss and disruption.

CGL Norfolk

Alcohol & drug behaviour change service

GamCare is a national provider of free information, advice and support for anyone affected by problem gambling. From April 2013-2018 our National Gambling Helpline has seen an increase in women callers:

68% increase of women who are gamblers 72% increase of women who are affected others

Using GamCare and Gambling Commission data, we estimate only 1% of women who experience gambling related harm contact the National Gambling Helpline. Even taking into account the increase in calls shown above, in our experience, women are far less likely to contact our helpline than men. This is not surprising due to the perception that problem gambling is mostly a 'male issue'.

Women are also disproportionately negatively impacted by gambling related harm from someone else's gambling, e.g. significant safeguarding issues, harm to finances and relationships, impacts on mental health and wellbeing; despite this, they still don't come forward.

Women and Gambling

Whilst not exclusively the case, our experience tells us women tend to be more likely to gamble on fruit/slot machines and online. The availability of online gambling on mobile phones can fit around a woman's busy life and is easily hidden.

Feelings of shame about gambling problems also hold people back from talking about the issue. This hidden nature of the problem means it can become increasing isolating and harmful over time.

We have some knowledge and research around women and problem gambling, but we want to know more. So, at GamCare we're launching a service that is entirely focused on supporting women to encourage them speak out about problem gambling.

We recently secured funding from the Tampon Tax Fund, to deliver a nationwide programme to build awareness of problem gambling and support options within the wider support sectors for women and girls

What we can do

GamCare works across England, Scotland and Wales delivering free advice, support and training that can be catered to your service and flexible based on staff skills/availability.

We can offer:

- FREE resources for staff and women and girls in your service affected by problem gambling;
- FREE face-to-face training packages with an aim of upskilling staff around early identification, advice, signposting and referral;
- FREE treatment to women affected by problem gambling;
- A single point of contact for ongoing support and advice.

By working together, we can reduce gambling-related harm experienced by women and increase access into our fully-funded and free treatment services across a variety of locations in Great Britain.

What could you do to help?

Could women coming into contact with your service be affected by a gambling problem?

Are women you see affected by debt, relationship difficulties, housing issues, depression and anxiety, feelings of isolation or suicidality?

If they are, there is a chance these issues could be the result of a gambling problem – whether their own or someone else's. Trying to sort out the symptoms without looking at the root cause may mean the individual never fully recovers.

As an organisation you can take some simple steps to skill yourselves in the topic of gambling related harm.

One step would be to familiarise yourself with the issue and the signs and symptoms of a problem, and to remember to ask the question about gambling where you think it might be playing a role.

We can help you to get this right.

Food Network Meeting Summary

The Hive is home to one of the two community fridges in Norwich, offering an opportunity for people to come together and have a cuppa as well as choosing from the variety of food (mainly waste food given by supermarkets). A course on shopping on a small budget is being offered to there in partnership with Adult learning. A raised bed has been set up to encourage people to get interested and involved in growing their own food.

The fridge is available

Sunday 9-10

Tuesday Drop in 1-3

Fridge 1.30-2.30

Thursday Drop in 10-12,

Fridge 11-12

<https://www.stfrancisheartsease.co.uk/fridge>

The Feed have been asked by Tesco to take part in a pilot that they hope will increase the amount of waste food that Tesco can pass on, they have offered them a fridge to trial for six weeks and they are awaiting delivery, more info to follow as the pilot begins.

Joy of Food is now part of Adult Learning which opens up more scope for combined learning, literacy can be a barrier to learning to cook (reading of recipes is generally required). Additional courses that link well with Joy of Food courses such as shopping on a budget and health and wellbeing are available.

Tuckswood library has raised beds to encourage local people to discover the pleasure of growing vegetables and flowers.

Rowan of Foodhub advised us that Foodhub could serve more community groups/organisations if required. Aldi is now providing food to Foodhub (and Soul Church) Discussion was held regarding gathering information across Norwich on the amount of waste food collected by the various groups and also how many community meals are created or families supported from what is collected. It was agreed this could be incorporated as an aim in the Food Poverty Action Plan and should be followed up as part of the network.

Foodbank have secured funding so that they are able to give additional support to families in crisis in the form of Gas and Electricity in winter (so recipients are able to keep warm and heat/cook the food they have received).

Foreshare Have contracts at present with Tesco and Waitrose that equate to 45 stores across Norfolk generally serving four or five groups to each store and they are currently developing contracts with Asda. They work with a range of members including schools and preschools that use the food as snacks or for breakfast club and also to offer to families in need. Foreshare has a range of data that can help form the basis of the Norwich calculations of food waste used and meals provided.

Soul Foundation Soul Pantry

We partner with a number of other organisations to collect, deliver and redistribute food.

We distribute in a number of ways:

Direct to individuals

Direct to Families

Through a third party to families

We provide food for distribution through schools both in Norwich and in Norfolk.

We provide food to 3 x schools for pre school breakfast .

We work with a number of hostels incl St Martins stable to supplement food. This is gauged to reduce dependency.

We support a range of drop events with food; vulnerable mothers/tots, Soul Haven, mental health support groups, veterans and ladies companionship group. Some we run and some run by others such Bowthorpe Community Hub.

We do not have any community fridges ourselves (yet!) but support some that do with food.

Community lunches. These welcome people from across the social spectrum for a hot meal and companionship. There are a number across the week; some are open to the whole community and some are more bespoke such as mental health group or the vulnerable mothers and babies group. All have the option to take home a hamper.

We supported FISH this summer with the provision of food to those providing a front line service in schools or through the Boundary Pub. We also loaned our food trailer to the Norman Centre who provided meals to the local community.

The food trailer is used to dispense hot food and pack ups once a week. We are looking at more rural locations where there is less provision.

Our food supplier is a mix of those we have with Fareshare and those we have forged a link with independently:

Asda

Aldi

Carer Emergency Plans – Norfolk County Council

Norfolk County Council has updated its Carer emergency card application form to make it quicker and simpler to apply. You now only need to provide:

- Details about the person you care for
- The things you do to help them
- Names of emergency contacts

<https://www.norfolk.gov.uk/care-support-and-health/start-with-social-care/urgent-help/carers-emergency-card>

If someone needs help completing the form they can also contact Carers Matter Norfolk:

<https://carersmatternorfolk.org.uk/information-advice/support-carers/advice-line/>

Unfamiliar with the scheme? Here's a quick overview about the benefits of applying:

If you are caring for someone over the age of 18, it is important that you get a carer's emergency card. This will ensure that that person will be safe if you are caught up in an emergency.

You will be sent a carer's emergency card, which you should carry with you at all times. The card clearly states that you are a carer and that someone is relying on you to keep them safe and well. It also has your Emergency Plan number on it and the emergency helpline number 0344 800 8020.

What happens in an emergency?

You, or someone on your behalf, should ring the emergency helpline number 0344 800 8020 and give the number of your Emergency Plan.

Your named emergency contacts will be contacted by the emergency helpline service. Your named emergency contacts can then help the person you care for.

The service will help even if the named contacts cannot be reached, or you do not have any people who can help nearby. Care workers will provide an initial response, to allow enough time to plan what will need to happen next.

What is an emergency?

Examples include:

- You (or someone close to you) are taken ill or have had an emergency
- You have had an accident, or your car has broken down

The emergency services know what to do if they see your carer's emergency card.

Assistive Technology – Adult Social Services

Adult Social Services

Assistive Technology

What is Assistive Technology?

Assistive technology is a range of electronic gadgets that can help you to live independently in your own home. This includes things such as:

- Sensors / detectors that link to a monitoring centre (via your rented community 'pendant' alarm). For example smoke, low temperature, falls, and property exit sensors
- Global Positioning System (GPS) location devices that use a mobile network to raise an alert to a carer or monitoring centre. For example the buddi gps device
- Triggers / sensors that can support a person or their carer in and around the home. For example pendant buttons, door contacts or motion sensors linked to a pager

Who is the service for?

This service is for adults over 18 years living in their own home (this excludes residential /care homes).

The Assistive Technology team will carry out an assessment to see if you would benefit from having any electronic gadgets that would help you to stay independent and/or provide support for your carer.

How much does it cost?

The assessment is free, and many of the gadgets are available on free loan. However as part of the assessment we might suggest some other gadgets that we do not provide that we think would be useful. The person carrying out your assessment will be able to suggest places where you can buy these directly.

Coercive & Controlling Behaviour

COERCIVE & CONTROLLING BEHAVIOUR

Q: What is coercion and control?

A: Controlling behaviour is a range of acts designed to make a person subordinate and/or dependent by isolating them from sources of support, exploiting their resources and capacities for personal gain, depriving them of the means needed for independence, resistance and escape, and regulating their everyday behaviour.

Coercive behaviour is an act or a pattern of acts of assault, threats, humiliation and intimidation or other abuse that is used to harm, punish, or frighten a person.

Norfolk Safeguarding Adults Board
NCCSP Norfolk county community safety partnership

MYTH BUSTING

Coercive and controlling behaviour is not part of a healthy relationship. It's about repeated criminal behaviour and creating fear of not abiding by someone else's rules.

Over 9,000 offences of coercive control were recorded by the police in 2017/18. There were 960 offences of coercive and controlling behaviour where a prosecution commenced at magistrates' courts in 2017/18 (ONS 2018)

15th December 2015
Coercive or controlling behaviour became a new offence in the UK

9,000
Of 3,000 cases suffering exclusively from coercive control, only 17% made a report to police (SafeLives)

This is not trivial. Psychological and emotional abuse can be as damaging as physical abuse for victims and children. Coercive control is a criminal offence. REMEMBER you don't have to be assaulted to be a victim of domestic abuse.

SOME EXAMPLES OF BEHAVIOUR OR TACTICS USED BY PERPETRATORS ARE:

- | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|--|---|--|---|--|---|---|---|--|
|  | Isolating from friends and family |  | Depriving of basic needs, such as food |  | Monitoring / controlling time, tracking movements |  | Controlling their social media |  | Taking control over aspects of everyday life, what to wear and when to sleep |
|  | Depriving access to support services, such as healthcare or medication |  | Manipulating someone or their friends and family |  | Repeated humiliation, embarrassment or dehumanising the person |  | Controlling finances or creating financial dependency |  | Making threats or intimidation |

TYPES OF EVIDENCE

If you or someone you know is in a controlling or coercive relationship, it is important to collect as much evidence of the behaviour as possible. For example:

- | | | | | | | | |
|---|--------------------------------------|---|--|---|----------------------------------|---|---|
|  | Emails, screenshots and social media |  | Phone records, text messages and 999 tapes |  | CCTV and body-worn video footage |  | Previous offences and witness testimony |
|---|--------------------------------------|---|--|---|----------------------------------|---|---|

WE CAN ALL DO SOMETHING ABOUT THIS TYPE OF DOMESTIC ABUSE.

HERE ARE 3 ACTIONS WE WANT YOU TO DO:

1) Have a look at the 10 behaviours listed (shown left)

Do you identify any of those within your own relationships? How about a friend or colleague? If so, there is support, see back page.

2) Share the online videos

Cascading Leadership – The King's Fund

Cascading Leadership: supporting peer-to-peer leadership development in the voluntary and community sector.

Cascading Leadership provides an invaluable free opportunity for leaders working in health and wellbeing organisations in the voluntary and community sector in the UK to develop their leadership skills and receive practical support.

It is built on a peer-to-peer model where an experienced VCS leader (a consultant) supports another VCS leader who is seeking support (a partner). Consultants and partners are matched together in pairs. They meet at least five times over a period of nine months where the partner has an opportunity to work through organisational issues and receive support. The consultant also benefits from being stretched to develop their own leadership and skills, while being supported and supervised by senior staff at The King's Fund. There is no charge for the programme, which is valued at £5,800 for each pair.

The next course starts March 2020.

Applications are especially welcomed for consultants and partners from Black and minority ethnic communities, as people from these groups have been underrepresented on previous courses.
